data will be provided in a clear, standardised format. Vegetation Management Services Ltd and its training division, Vegetation Management Training (VMT) ensure that all relevant options are detailed within this format to assist the individual with their decision.

All individuals retain the right to complain to the Information Commissioners Office (ICO) should they feel there is a cause for concern regarding the manner in which their personal data is being managed or processed. In the first instance, all investigations will be carried out at a senior management level and escalated to the Managing Director in the event that an acceptable resolution cannot be achieved.

Vegetation Management Services Ltd and its training division, Vegetation Management Training (VMT) ensure that all consent mechanisms used in the consent process are unambiguous. Every opportunity is provided for the individual to assert a positive indication of agreement and that they have been afforded the opportunity to make a decision, rather than proceed on an assumption of acceptance by default. In the event that it is necessary to hold personal data for children, the consent process will include the same positive consent mechanism to gain confirmation from a parent/carer for the personal data to be held.

Data security is of paramount importance to Vegetation Management Services Ltd and its training division, Vegetation Management Training (VMT) as part of our protection from any data breaches. Systems are constantly monitored, audited and assessed to facilitate the detection of potential breaches. Any breaches deemed to be of a level that may involve suffering, financial loss or damage through identity theft or confidentiality breach will be notified to the ICO. To assist in the ongoing protection of personal data, Vegetation Management Services Ltd conduct Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIA) at regular intervals and link them to existing risk assessments and Data Protection Programme.

Vegetation Management Services Ltd and its training division, Vegetation Management Training (VMT) do not currently operate internationally. In the event that our business expands internationally this policy will be amended and distributed through the appropriate channels.
